

ACRACONNECT

JUNE 2017

Bringing you News Bites on the latest corporate and audit regulatory developments

www.acra.gov.sg

Training for Company Directors goes Online

Online training is now available for directors under ACRA's Directors Compliance Programme (DCP). Training topics include Director Duties and Corporate Governance. Participants can log on at their convenience, to ACRA's e-training portal where lessons are conducted via video clips, quizzes and case studies. The DCP is aimed at directors as identified by ACRA, who have failed to comply with the annual return filing requirements under the Companies Act. Stay tuned as more e-training programmes are in the works including one for newly appointed directors.

 VISIT WEBSITE

Adding Value for Businesses

All newly registered/incorporated entities will now receive a free copy of their Business Profile upon successful registration / incorporation. Existing business entities registered with ACRA will receive a free copy of their Business Profile after successfully renewing their business registration, or filing their Annual Returns or Annual Declarations.

 VISIT WEBSITE

More Business Information for Public Use

The public can now access even more business information on over 500,000 business entities registered with ACRA. Using the Entity Search function in ACRA's BizFile+ portal, the public can now access information on business entities such as business activity (SSIC), filing history, validity of the registered business address and even locate a business address on an online map.

 VISIT WEBSITE

Helping Audit Firms Be Future Ready Sign Up Now for the Singapore Accountancy and Audit Convention 2017 (3 Oct 2017)

Public accountants can look forward to a dedicated conference track at the upcoming Singapore Accountancy and Audit Convention 2017. Key topics include inspection findings from ACRA's Practice Monitoring Programme and in-depth discussion on the pitfalls of key inspection findings. Industry experts will also shed light on how audit firms can be future-ready by harnessing digital technology to improve practice efficiency. Register now for early bird discount on conference fees!

 VIEW PROGRAMME

ACRA's Open Data Initiative

The public can now access useful business datasets from ACRA's public register of business entities at Data.gov.sg – the government's one-stop portal for open and free data. Over 1.5 million records of both live and non-live entities registered with ACRA in machine-readable format will be available. Updated on a monthly basis, the free data will allow researchers and app developers to analyse the information and develop useful applications for businesses.

 VISIT WEBSITE